

NIDS International Forum on War History
“War and Information in History”

September 14, 2022

Part 1: 10:00-13:00 (JST)

Chairman's Remarks (10:00-10:05)

Keynote Speech (10:05-10:50)

Dr. John Ferris (Professor, University of Calgary)

“GCHQ and Signals Intelligence during the Cold War and Afterward”

Session (10:50-12:05): Strategy and Intelligence in the Pacific War

Dr. Moriyama Atsushi (Professor, Department of International Relations, University of Shizuoka)

“Japan's South Advance and Intelligence in 1941”

Shimizu Ryotaro (Senior Fellow, Center for Military History)

“Japan's Surrender and US Intelligence Services”

Dr. Iwatani Nobu (Professor, Faculty of Public Policy, Hokkaido University)

“Chiang Kai-shek and the outbreak of the Pacific War”

Overall Discussion (12:05-13:00)

Part 2: 15:00-18:00 (JST)

Chairman's Remarks (15:00-15:05)

Special Speech (15:05-15:50)

Dr. Miura Lully (President, Yamaneko Research Institute, Inc)

“Risk Communication and the Formation of Public Opinion”

Session (15:50-17:05): Information, Politics, and World War

Sir. Hew Strachan (Professor of International Relations, University of St Andrews)

“The First World War and the revolution in intelligence: new methods of information collection and their strategic and tactical application”

Dr. Brian P. Farrell (Professor, Department of History, National University of Singapore)

“The Politics of Intelligence in Grand Strategy: The Joint Intelligence Committee and Britain's War against Japan 1942-1945”

Haruna Mikio (Former Professor, Nagoya University)

“Development of the United States Intelligence Organizations during the Cold War”

Overall Discussion (17:05-18:00)