

Security & Strategy

Volume 6 Number 1 December 2025

Factors Fixing the U.S. Naval Base at Guantánamo:
What Is Cuba's "Uniqueness"?

OSAWA Suguru

The Formation Process of the Ground Self-Defense Force's "Authorized Strength":
Its Significance from the Perspective of Defense Buildup

HIDA Daisuke

U.S. Military LIC Research in the 1980s:
Focusing on Army and Air Force LIC Joint Research

SHIMPUKU Yuichi

The Search for "Better" Concessions:
A Theoretical Perspective on Credibility-Preserving Concessions

MOTOYAMA Isao

Probability of a Taiwan Conflict:
A Military Explanation

KIRIDORI Ryo

The Anti-Soviet Armed Resistance in the Baltic States:
The Memory of the "Forest Brothers"

MATSUO Koji

A Study on U.S. Counterterrorism Strategy:
Analysis of Targeted Killing

ADACHI Yoshimasa

The People's Liberation Army's Perception of Japan:
An Analysis before and after the Release of Japan's Three Strategic Documents

SASAKI Tomonori

Characteristics of Cognitive Domain Operations as Envisioned by the People's Liberation
Army (PLA):
A Comparative Analysis of Western Research and Chinese Articles including those in PLA Daily

NAGANUMA Kazumi

[Research Note] The Formation of the Concept of "Protection of Sea Lines of Communication" in the Japan Maritime Self-Defense Force:
Debates Surrounding Maritime Defense Concepts in the 1950s

AKAMATSU Shinji

NIDS

National Institute for Defense Studies, Tokyo