

Security & Strategy

Volume 6 Number 2 March 2026

The Impact of Economic Threats on Japanese Preferences for Political Regimes: A Mediation Analysis of Political Interest in Support for Democracy and Authoritarianism	TERADA Takashi
What is “Operational Art”?: The Ambiguity of the Intermediary between Strategy and Tactics	SAITO Daisuke
Use of Civil Aviation by the Japanese Government and Military during the Pacific War	KUTO Shinya
Japanese Intelligence in Portugal during World War II: The Japanese Legation, Army Attachés, and the Collection of American Intelligence	SHIMIZU Ryotaro
The U.S. Marine Corps’ Struggles with Modernizing Amphibious Operations: The Limitations of Assault-First Doctrine	SATAKE Naoki
New Aspects of Air Warfare in the Ukraine War: European Air Power’s Current Status and Challenges	OGAWA Yasuhiro
The Development of EU Military Mobility: Relations with NATO and European States	TANAKA Ryosuke
National Security Strategies of the Philippines: Origins and Enduring Logics across Three Administrations	TSUJITA Yuuki
The Legal Approach as an Instrument in the Xi Jinping Administration’s Taiwan Policy: its Driving Logic and Functions	GOTO Yohei
North Korea’s Coercive Strategy: Its Cumulative Effects on the Target State’s Domestic Politics	WATANABE Takeshi
Elucidating the Conduct of Navy Ministry Section Chiefs in Wartime Showa: A Study of the Newly Discovered Diary of Oishi Tamotsu	YAMAGUCHI Masaya
Contested Criteria for Assessing Violations of the Principle of Sovereignty in Cyber Operations: Policy Considerations and the Recalibration of “Pure” and “Relative” Sovereignist Approaches	YAMAGUCHI Akihiro
The Difference between the “Use of Force” as Maritime Law Enforcement (MLE) and the “Use of (Armed) Force” under International Law: Conditions under Which the “Use of Force” by Maritime Police (Law Enforcement) Agencies Violates the Principle of Prohibition on the Use of (Armed) Force	EIFUKU Seiya
